Strong Force On Highways Over Holiday

Planes, Unmarked Cars, Radar Used To Avert Accidents

MADISON (AP) — The State Traffic Patrol will use air-planes, concealed radar and unmarked cars to catch traffic violators during the July 4 holiday, James L. Karns, head of the State Motor Vehicle Department, said Wednesday.

Karns called on officers in all branches of Wisconsin police units for an enforcement effort that "will be the strongest ever put forth in the state."

He said that thousands of city and county police and nearly 250 state patrolmen will be on duty during the holiday weekend.

Military Vehicles to Move
Adding to the flow of holiday traffic will be some 800 military vehicles moving Illinois 33rd National Guard Division to summer training at Camp Ripley, Minn.

Dan Schultz, the department's safety director, said most of the vehicles will enter Wisconsin Saturday on Highways 90, 12 and 13 and Interstate 90 and 94. He suggested motorists consider routes to avoid the convicts on undivided highways.

Karns said that the use of concealed radar by state officers is a departure from standard policy, but he did not consider it a police trap.

"Instead, we look upon it as a legal means of apprehending violators who are disregarding speeds laws made by our Legislature in the interest of public safety," he said.

Patrol officers will use about 25 unmarked cars, Karns said. "To get the enforcement message to those motorists who are possessed with a nervous mirror complex and apparently obey the law only when officers are near."

29 Vietnamese Troopers Killed in Jungle; Saigon Claims Victory Elsewhere

BY PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Viet Cong guerrillas ambushed and destroyed an army convoy in the jungles of the central highlands Wednesday, killing 29 government troops.

But the Vietnamese Defense Ministry also reported today that government forces killed 104 guerrillas in a mopping up operation a few miles north of the ambush.

The nine-truck convoy was hit along Route 19, where a whole French mobile brigade was wiped out in 1954.

The convoy was making its way with military supplies from the coastal city of Qui Nhon, 250 miles north of Saigon, to Pleiku in the interior.

Hit Trucks With Mines
The Viet Cong smashed the trucks with mines, then overran them. They gathered up a machine gun and 30 individual weapons before melting into the jungle.

U.S. helicopters roared in over the convoy while the Viet Cong was stripping it of weapons. Zooming in on the black-clad guerrillas with guns blazing, the Americans kept the Viet Cong from carrying off thousands of rounds of heavy artillery shells until reinforcements arrived by road.

The Defense Ministry said many government troops were wounded and five were missing. It said the Viet Cong lost three men.

In the operation in Kontum Province, 25 miles north of Pleiku, government troops found 59 Viet Cong bodies and captured considerable supplies of Communist weapons, the Defense Ministry said. The operation had been going on for some time and ended Wednesday.

Bombing in Saigon
A terrorist lobbed an explosive device in Saigon today, slightly injuring two American servicemen and a Chinese passenger.

The incident occurred on a sidewalk near a U.S. officers' billet at 7 a.m. An American spokesman said one of the soldiers was hit by fragments and the other hurt his leg when he dropped to the ground to avoid the blast.

The U.S. combat toll rose to 149 dead Wednesday when a Viet Cong sniper killed the pilot of a medical evacuation helicopter in the Mekong River delta 53 miles southwest of Saigon. The helicopter had picked up a wounded American and was taking off.

Three other Americans on board were injured when the helicopter veered out of control and overturned. The wounded man and the three helicopter crewmen were taken to Saigon by another helicopter.

Typhoon Death List Grows to 89 In Philippines

MANILA (AP)—Reports from outlying provinces pushed the Philippine death count from Typhoon Winnie to 89 today and indicated nearly half a million persons were left homeless.

Authorities feared an epidemic might break out in Manila, half of whose 2 million residents have been without electricity or water for the past three days.

Broken power lines idled many pumps, but the electric company said full power should be restored by Friday.

Police estimated damage in the Manila area at $10 million, and the figure was expected to rise.

House Okays Senate Civil Rights Bill

Measure Sent To President for Signing Into Law

BY JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress finally completed action on the civil rights bill today as the House passed the historic measure and sent it to the White House to be signed into law.

House approval of the Senate-passed bill brought to an end a year-long legislative struggle conducted against a background of rising racial tensions.

President Johnson is expected to sign the bill quickly in hopes its bars against discrimination will help ease the pressure of civil rights demonstrations and countermeasures taken to oppose them.

Quick Test
Negro leaders have promised a quick test of some of the bill's provisions, and some Southern members of Congress have predicted the first results of its passage will be increased violence, not a lessening of it.

The House originally passed its own version of the bill last February, 290 to 130. In the Senate, Southerners battled the bill with a three-months debate but on June 19 the Senate finally passed it 72 to 27 in a revised form. That sent the bill back to the House.

There was talk at one time that the President would sign the bill with a big ceremony on July 4—Independence Day, but the White House decided instead on quick action.

Ceremony Planned
Presidential press secretary George E. Reedy said that Johnson conferred with House Speaker John W. McCormack and other House officers and "plans to sign it as soon as it gets down here." He said that it "looks like there will be a statement and ceremony early this evening."

Radio and television networks will be offered the opportunity for live coverage of the event, Reedy said.

In speaking of early evening, Reedy apparently meant the period beyond 6 p.m.

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, brother of the former president, has been given a seat on the Maryland delegation to the Republican National Convention. When asked by newsmen if he would make the trip, Eisenhower replied, "I would certainly give it consideration," but "I haven't been asked."

Refuses to Make Cuts In Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has hailed House passage of a $3.3-billion foreign aid bill as a victory for American foreign policy and the American people.

Final House action on the measure came late Wednesday after Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., was defeated in his efforts to make further cuts in the total which already had been reduced $200 million from Johnson's original "barebones" request for $3.5 billion. The reduction was the smallest since the Korean War.

Johnson promptly issued a statement saying the House action was "in line with the best interests of America and the best interests of the Free World."

Major Victory
"I congratulate the members who backed a measure which was realistically and honestly conceived. This is an important victory for American foreign policy and that means for every American citizen."

Passage came on a 231-174 roll call vote, with 176 Democrats and 55 Republicans voting in favor of the measure. Opposed were 63 Democrats and 111 Republicans.

The appropriations measure which provides the foreign aid money was then sent to the Senate, where the Foreign Relations Committee is working on the President's foreign aid authorization request. This first step merely sets the ceiling on foreign aid spending. Action on the authorization will follow.

Blow to Passman
Wednesday's vote ended 10 years of dominant influence by Passman over foreign aid funds in the House. He is chairman of a House Appropriations subcommittee that handles foreign aid.

But he pledged to "keep on fighting this monstrosity" and asked "I don't think 9 times."

13 Race Pickets Sleeping Neenah Held in Chicago Woman Is Stabbed

Refuse to Leave Office Until Their Demands Are Met

CHICAGO (AP) — Police arrested 13 members of the Congress of Racial Equality Wednesday night for refusing to leave a city building commissioner's office until he met their demands for rat extermination and housing code enforcement programs.

Those arrested were charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest and were held under $200 bond each.

Earlier in the day, 150 pickets congregated in front of the building on the North Side of the business district to protest poor housing conditions for Negroes.

Make 2 Demands
The demonstrators arrested met with Sidney J. Smith, acting building commissioner, and presented two demands:

1. That the city immediately begin a massive inspection and extermination program to rid the city of rats and vermin.

2. That the city immediately hire 250 unemployed persons to begin inspection and extermination in "ghetto areas."

Smith said the second demand was impossible since his present budget would not provide for hiring a force so large. He presently has a staff of 59 working on inspection and extermination.

The demonstrators threatened to "wait all year" outside Smith's office.

Robert Lynskey, commander of the police task force, told them that "we are not going to allow you to take over any office or part of this building."

Auto of Murder Victim Burned

LOGANSPOUT, Ind. (AP) — The slayer of a Kokomo furniture store executive apparently drove the victim's car to Chicago, where it has been located, police said today.

The car, burned, was found Monday in an empty lot near Chicago's Loop, but was not identified as that of Gerald Shafer, 41, until Wednesday.

A burned and battered 1964 Illinois license plate found in a Kokomo alley two blocks from where Shafer lived added further mystery to the slaying of the Kokomo man.

Shafer's badly beaten body was found Sunday in weeds along a rural road southeast of Logansport. The throat had been cut and the body was clothed only in Bermuda shorts, undershorts with hearts on them and socks.

Shafer was from Galesburg, Ill., but had worked in Madison, Wis., for the Leathe & Co. furniture chain before becoming credit manager for the firm in Kokomo last February.

Mrs. Emil Koch in Satisfactory Condition; Oshkosh Youth Sought

NEENAH — A 17-year-old Neenah youth is being sought today after questioning in the stabbing of a 60-year-old woman sleep-foot or by auto.

The stabbing weapon was a sharp instrument, according to Mrs. Emil Koch, Breezewood police, but they said they could not identify the youth.

The youth being sought by the police, the son of a friend of the family, was reported seen leaving the home by Koch about 4 a.m., the boy reportedly called the minister of his church and asked to see him. The youth is a former Winnebago State Hospital patient.

Mrs. Koch awakened when she felt a sharp pain in her abdomen, and her husband got up and saw the youth leaving through the breezeway, according to statements to Winnebago County police.

Winnebago police still had not taken the youth into custody at press time.

U.S. Tells Soviets Nuclear Forces Aim to Protect Allies in Europe

BY DORIAN FALK
GENEVA (AP) — In a sharp reply to the Soviet Union, the United States said today the planned Western Allies' multinational nuclear forces is designed only to protect Western Europe against the Soviet nuclear threat.

U.S. delegate William C. Foster defended the Western project against a new Soviet attack in the 17-nation disarmament talks. Foster said a spread of nuclear weapons in the world was the only alternative to the seaborne nuclear force.

Foster blamed the Soviet Union for using "groundless political arguments against the nuclear force in the pursuit of its long-standing aim to disrupt defensive arrangements of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization."

NLRB Finds Union Guilty Of Race Bias

WASHINGTON (AP) — Breaking historic ground, the National Labor Relations Board found a union guilty of racial discrimination today and stripped it of its certification.

In a broad opinion with possible national impact, the majority decision said whenever a union causes discrimination based on race it has committed an unfair labor practice.

The action—the first of its kind by the NLRB—was against the Independent Metal Workers Union, which maintained separate locals for white and Negro members at Hughes Tool Co. in Houston, Tex.

The case involved the complaint of a member of the Negro local whose application for an apprenticeship available only to white members was rejected by the union.

The five-member board's decision to revoke certification on grounds of illegal coercion was unanimous, although two members gave more limited reasons for their finding.

The minority said Congress never intended the National Labor Relations Act to deal with racial discrimination except when based on union membership, as in this case.

The majority opinion was by members Boyd Leedom, Gerald A. Brown and Howard Jenkins Jr. Chairman Frank W. McCulloch and member John H. Fanning wrote the minority view.

The majority said the union's refusal to process the grievance of the Negro member, Ivory Davis, because of his race amounted to refusal to bargain collectively with the employer.

The revocation of the union's official certification means that another union may petition for certification at the plant.

Hitchhikers Often Have Police Records

National Insurance Firm Releases Report Of Surveys in U. S.

MENASHA — "Surveys show that the overwhelming majority of hitchhikers have police records" is the title of a report compiled by a national insurance agency and released today by police officials.

Release of the report follows the promise of a crackdown of hitchhikers in Menasha and the issuance of warrants for the arrest of two hitchhikers.

The report, entitled "Let Them Walk," was made from surveys in New Jersey, Arizona, Oklahoma, Indiana and portions of Colorado and Wisconsin.

In New Jersey state troopers began checking turnpike hitchhikers and discovered 162 were runaways; 98 servicemen away without leave; seven inmates fleeing mental institutions and five escaped convicts. The fingerprints of about 500 others were on criminal records.

A similar survey was conducted in a small Arizona town, where lawmen were curious about the many hitchhikers passing through. Out of 100 hitchhikers, they discovered 84 had criminal records and 12 others were either juvenile runaways or AWOL servicemen. Only four of the 100 were without police records.

The report cites several incidents where innocent looking hitchhikers turned on their helping hand and killed or robbed them.

It also points out a motorist in 20 states and the District of Columbia is liable to the rider in case of injury through "ordinary negligence."

FBI director J. Edgar Hoover, in commenting on the report, said "Offering a ride to a stranger, like passing on a hill or curve, is a dangerous, blind gamble. In neither case can the motorist foresee what is ahead."

Menasha police, although powerless to stop hitchhiking in the city, is making an attempt to at least control it. State law forbids hitchhiking on roadways but does not prohibit the hitchhiker from thumbing a ride while standing on the curb. Menasha police plan to make sure the hitchhiker does not step off the curb.

According to police chief Lester Clark, hitchhikers who violate ordinances will face court action.

Lester Keller set trial for August 3, and continued bond of $3,500. The woman is accused of forging checks and using a fictitious name on a charge account.

She was held in the Outagamie County jail in lieu of bond.

David McKenzie, nearly 14-year-old grandson of Mrs. Basil F. McKenzie, Appleton, will appear as the precocious nephew of an unemployed TV writer in the next Peninsula Players production, "A Thousand Clowns." The Broadway hit comedy written by Herb Gardner, creator of the Nebbush cartoon strip, opens Tuesday at the Theatre-in-a-Garden at Fish Creek. Here, Miss Rathbone plays with Gus, the dog owned by summer theater producers James B. McKenzie and his actress wife Jeanne Bolan. The comedy ends Sunday.

Droula Rathbone, granddaughter of famous actor Basil Rathbone, returns to Door County and the Peninsula Players for an important role in the Noel Coward comedy 'Hay Fever' currently showing at the Theatre-in-a-Garden at Fish Creek. Here, Miss Rathbone plays with Gus, the dog owned by summer theater producers James B. McKenzie and his actress wife Jeanne Bolan. The comedy ends Sunday.

Peninsula Theater Scene for Reunions

Players Open 30th Anniversary Season With Same 1934 Comedy 'Hay Fever'

BY JINGO
Among the many reunions that have been going on at the Peninsula Players this 30th anniversary week has been the return of Droula Rathbone to the scenes of her youth.
The backbone of the anniversary week has been the production of Noel Coward's 'Hay Fever' which started the whole thing way back then. The comedy closes Sunday.
Miss Rathbone is the granddaughter of Basil Rathbone and the daughter of the players' founder. She grew up in the Theatre-in-a-Garden before spreading her wings to fly the heights of Gotham's stage.
Her recent activities placed her in the Broadway hit 'Little Me' that starred Sid Caesar and in the lead of the well-received 'Ballet Ballade' She has danced with the Andre Eglevsky Ballet and the Hartford Ballet companies and at the Boston Art Festival and the pine was appreciative.

Her reappearance at the Peninsula follows more or less recent work in 'The Teahouse of the August Moon' 'Our Town' and 'No Time for Sergeants'.

David McKenzie, a young scion of the present producers Mr. and Mrs. James McKenzie and the grandson of Mrs. Basil McKenzie of Appleton, is a little early to say little David will go blow his horn in his father's — and his mother's — footsteps but the chances are very good. His theater season is year around. When the McKenzies close the Peninsula in September they head back to New England to start a winter season. That much exposure surely must create a most virulent case of stage fever.

Old Favorites
Exposure in the theater. It would appear at least is conducive to long life. People who were born the year 'Hay Fever' arrived are getting shy of mentioning their age and those who saw the light of day along with Agatha Christie's 'Ten Little Indians' are thinking of retirement, but the plays look as young as ever.

To Your Good Health Individual Reaction to Contact Lenses Varies

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. and granddaughter wear them.

Dear Dr. Molner: Recently I read an article stating that plastic contact lenses are harmful to the eyes, and that there were eight cases of blindness caused from using them. We are concerned because our son wears a contact lens. The optometrist who fitted him said there was no danger. What is your opinion?

MRS. S. S.
Let's everybody relax. I read several of those articles, too, and also some others which followed them. There's no reason to be alarmed, although I do think people should know what to expect if they adopt contact lenses.

The articles mentioned above were concerned plastic lenses. There is an obvious reason for using plastic. It doesn't shatter. In the early days of plastic lenses there were a few which caused a lot of trouble. An impurity in one batch of plastic caused irritation and the irritation, in some tragic instances, led to blindness.

Now I am not an unqualified proponent of contact lenses. Neither do I condemn them. They are excellent for some people and they are a disappointment for others. It's sort of like politics. The fellow who always votes a straight ticket and always has the same party is either a profane politician or a fool. Be whether it bothers you. If only cause neither party has a monopoly on brains or good candidates. It's the same with contact lenses. Use them if they are right for you, and don't if they aren't.

Medicine in short is very simple. I'm not convinced that of the personal, and if you have trouble with contact lenses, don't use them.

eight cases of blindness. Some of these people may not have had eye problems that would have caused the same tragic result anyway. Maybe yes, maybe no. I have a large area of doubt in my mind because I've seen the same sort of pattern appear in quite different fields of health. Out of a million (or several million) uses of a drug, a treatment or an appliance, you find a certain number of failures.

Report the failures! Talk about them! Study them! Certainly! But find out what caused the failure, and correct it. I'm a conservative nature and I don't jump on the bandwagon when some new discovery comes along. I'm hungry to know what's good about it, but suspicious enough to want to know what minor aspects may turn out to be harmful, too.

So in this case I don't see lenses there were a few which caused a lot of trouble. An impurity in one batch of plastic caused irritation and the irritation, in some tragic instances, led to blindness.

Now I am not an unqualified proponent of contact lenses. Neither do I condemn them. They are excellent for some people and they are a disappointment for others. It's sort of like politics. No. To see what would happen which he may not even know, pen some investigators paid and argue about that. False unless they are psychotic. Arguments fail to reach people usually because they do not deal with the real issue. Approval Given For Dam, Lake In State Park
MADISON (AP)—A subcommittee of the State Building Commission gave its approval Tuesday to a $350,000 dam in Governor Dodge State Park but cautioned that there may be seasons when there will not be enough water for a recreational lake.

The subcommittee took another look at the proposed 148-acre lake near Dodgeville on a direction of the building commission. The commission had delayed plans for the dam after a Conservation Department engineer said the water supply is not sufficient for a lake and a dam would create a stink-hole.

conversation with newsmen throughout the state for weeks. "Wishing this feeling wasn't there," he said, "isn't going to make it disappear."

Says It Again

"I have said for a year and I will repeat it again that if the Republicans are going to win in November, all party workers must get behind the nominee at all levels of government."

"If being concerned about this problem is imprudent," Peterson concluded, "then let it be. If working for unity after a party contest is 'imprudent,' then so be it."

Peterson's last remarks obviously were aimed at criticism aimed in his direction from Mrs. Peter Nelson and Dennis Herring, both of Appleton, co-chairmen of the Wisconsin Committee for Seranton.

State Seranton for President officials were upset by Peterson's remark that he was afraid some Wisconsin Republicans would "sit on their hands" and not work if Goldwater was not the party's presidential nominee.

Wisconsin Democratic Chairman Doubts GOP Slate's Impartiality

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Democratic state chairman Louis Hanson challenged the expressed impartiality of the GOP state delegation to San Francisco and said Wisconsin Republicans "have always worked for candidates of the far right."

"Wisconsin Republicans were responsible for the political death of Wendell Willkie in the 1944 primary," Hanson told a state university forum in La Crosse. "They fought bitterly nomination of Dwight Eisenhower in 1952 and still have not recovered from his success."

Hanson predicted that state Republicans would play an important role "in foisting Barry Goldwater on the American people" in the coming convention.

Clause Is Unusual

Such a clause is unusual for any kind of a municipal bond issue.

"I can't see any reason for it except that maybe it was thought such a clause would make the bonds more attractive to buyers," Hassler commented Tuesday.

Hassler said he would get in touch with the Chicago bonding firm as soon as possible. "To find out what this is all about."

Common Township and Associates have indicated the city may have troubles if section 10 of the agreement can't be waived. The firm is not sure as to whether it should proceed with the extensive water survey.

City officials hope to have the survey and recommendations completed by late this fall so a decision can be made by Jan. 1 on what Appleton will do for a new water source.

Abandon Fox River

The council went on record several months ago that the city should eventually abandon the Fox River as its source of supply.

Water department officials have warned that water from the river may be unfit for human consumption, even after treatment, within five years.

The Appleton Water Commission has recommended that Appleton go to Lake Michigan.

However, the council wants to consider the merits of both Michigan and Winnebago, and the cost involved.

Any future project to expand the city's water facilities would be at a cost of $15 million.

At noon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 2.15 to 840.21.

Lukens Steel, which had been gaining recently, fell more than 3 points.

General Motors and Chrysler gained about half a point while Ford was ahead by a lesser amount. All three automakers have started negotiations on a new labor contract with the United Auto Workers.

American Telephone, which Wednesday reported record earnings for the three months ended May 31, advanced a minority fraction and was within half a point of its all-time high.

IBM advanced 3 points and Polaroid was up 2 points.

Gains of about half a point were posted by Goodrich, Sears, Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Caterpillar and General Electric.

Prices were higher on the American Stock Exchange. Corporate and government bonds were mixed.

Les Voyageurs en France

Teacher Praised for Students' Abilities

BY JACQUELINE FIX

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

EAUBONNE, France — A French teacher of English here has given high praise to an American teacher of French from Appleton.

Mrs. Josette P. Poli, who teaches English at the lycee (high school) in Eaubonne, a suburb of Paris, found homes there for seven of Appleton's 24 Voyageurs — Beth Borsum, Debra Baker, Suzy Nock, Jane Otto, Jane Robinson, Craig Zelle and Ted Kloehn.

The students' ease in using French has impressed Mrs. Poli and their Eaubonne families.

Everything Goes Well

Indonesia — 103 Million People Scattered Over 3,000 Islands

Rich in Resources, Area Is Considered Pivot Point for All Southeastern Asia

BY EDWIN Q. WHITE

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Where is Indonesia going? The question is of concern to Washington and Moscow, London and Peking.

If you ask an Indonesian—the reply is apt to be something like this:

An AP special report.

"We are a young country—give us time."

Vastly rich in resources and with 103 million people scattered over 3,000 islands, Indonesia long has been regarded as a pivot to the future in this part of the world.

With the end of World War II, Indonesia began a struggle against centuries of Dutch rule.

The Dutch are coming back

and won its independence in 1949.

Today widespread poverty is common in the midst of natural riches.

"You must remember," says an American resident, "that for years upon years the wealth of this country was drained off to serve 400 families in Holland. They have made accomplishments here in little more than 14 years. It will take time, but Indonesia must be given time."

Others disagree. They say there must be drastic changes, and that patience and more time will continue a slide toward complete economic ruin.

Despite government restrictions and bureaucratic shackles, foreign firms are drawn to the wealth of Indonesia — oil, rubber, tin and minerals.

The Dutch are coming back

The British, most recent targets because of the anti-Malaysia campaign, are trying to hang on. Americans are here, along with Germans, East and West, Communist Chinese, Australians, Indians and Japanese.

Sturgeon Bay Firm Given Boat Contract

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Army Aviation Material Command in St. Louis awarded a $3,770,000 contract for a dozen 100-ton amphibious barges to Peterson Builders Inc. of Sturgeon Bay, Wis. Tuesday.

Peterson was the low of three firms that bid on the project. Deliveries are to start in November of 1965 and conclude in October of 1966.

president takes over the duties of a disabled president, can the latter resume office if he recovers? And who shall say he has recovered?

President Johnson, lacking a clear-cut legal answer, has worked out an arrangement on this with House Speaker John McCormack, next in line to succeed him.

Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy did the same with their vice presidents.

Congress has stepped in three times to meet another problem. Who succeeds to the presidency if the president dies and there's no vice president. Eight times in American history, when a president died, a vice president succeeded him, leaving the vice presidency empty.

Congress passed these three laws: 1793—The Senate's president pro tempore (a senator) and then the speaker of the House would be next in line of succession.

1886—The members of the Cabinet, starting with secretary of state, 1947—The speaker of the House and then the Senate's president pro tempore.

The 1947 act still stands. The constitutional amendment now hung up in Congress would wipe out the 1947 act and provide for the twin problems of succession and disability.

ing new embassies, indicating they intend to be around for a while. The sites are only a few blocks from the shell of the British Embassy, burned by rioters last September in an anti-Malaysia frenzy.

In the city of Jakarta, a few television antennas sprout from the sharply sloping red tile roofs. There is one channel, a government station that broadcasts two or three hours at night.

Most Indonesians tell you that where their country is going is nobody's business but Indonesia's. Displaying a fervent brand of nationalism, they emphasize that it definitely is not the concern of Western powers.

The United States, Britain and most of the countries of the West are, in Indonesian terms, old established forces in conflict with the new emerging forces. The new emerging forces, in Indonesian terms, include the Soviet Union, Communist China, the Middle East and Latin America. Indonesia pictures itself as a leader among these countries.

President Sukarno, who has almost unrestricted powers, has launched Indonesia on the path of so-called guided democracy. He has so far successfully maintained a precarious power balance between the military and the Communists, the country's two centers of organized strength. Backing first one, then the other, Sukarno has made himself leader in fact as well as title.

So far, Sukarno has been able to extend his internal balancing act to Indonesia's role in the East-West cold war. He has been courted by both sides, taken aid from both, and threatened to swing about dramatically if pushed too hard.

Whether Indonesia approves or not, its future course is of concern in the seats of world power. Recent developments in other parts of Southeast Asia—Indonesia in Washington and Peking—overshadow the whole area. Indonesia may find itself caught up in events that could upset the balance of even the most agile.

Amendment in Congress

Line of Succession to Presidency Not Solved

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — "My God, what is there in this place that a man should want to get into it?" That was James A. Garfield's view shortly after becoming president. He didn't have to bear the burden long, just 199 days.

He took office March 4, 1881 and 83 years ago today, July 2, 1881, was shot in the back by an assassin. He lingered 80 days and died Sept. 19.

The question raised by his long illness—how does a vice president take over from a disabled president and who determines disability—has never been answered by act of Congress or constitutional amendment.

Presidential Succession

An attempt to answer it, and chance the line of succession to the presidency, is pending in the form of a country was safe from instant disaster because it was remote from any major foe.

Garfield was so plagued by people wanting government jobs that after two months in office he said "It will cost me some split second decision by a chief struggle to keep from despising executive could mean the difference between survival and disaster."

He was shot by a disgruntled office-seeker, Charles J. Guiteau, 39-year-old crooked field lawyer and preacher who was 10 years younger than Garfield. On this the Constitution has been unchanged from the beginning and has always been Republican.

Intraparty Fight

Garfield was in a bruising Republican intraparty fight. On assassination day Guiteau wrote a note saying his act was a "necessity" to unite the party. He sounded like a mental patient. Nor does it answer. If a vice la jury ignored his insanity plea and convicted him. He was hanged June 30, 1882.

In his 80 days of dying Garfield performed only one official act. He signed extradition papers in a forgery case. Part of the time he was unconscious. Vice President Chester A. Arthur never took over until Garfield died.

Some Cabinet members had wanted him to but were deterred by fear that Garfield could never resume the presidency, if he recovered, once Arthur had acted as president. There was similar uncertainty and inaction in President Wilson's illness.

Foreign Crisis

During Garfield's illness there was a foreign crisis. And the machinery of government began to creak. But those were horse-and-buggy days. The this Congress in the form of a constitutional amendment. Odds are Congress will quit for 1964 without acting.

Since cookouts and the Fourth of July have become almost synonymous from a culinary viewpoint, we think this is a good season for "puns as well as buns." One thing is sure the cook never had it so good as the modern saying goes.

No matter where one shops, there seems to be an abundance of picnic items from carefree clothing to eating supplies, not to mention the wealth of picnic foods prepackaged, sometimes precooked or frozen, canned or served into specific portions all wrapped and ready to go into hamper or cooler.

There are portable barbecues ideal for traveling and tailgate picnickers. There are handsome braziers, habachis and big barbecues for backyard or porch. There are barbecues shaped like a kettle and supplied with a sturdy, huge cover. There are electrically driven spits and those with hoods to protect food and fixing. Some even come equipped with cutting board and hangers for barbecue utensils.

Even a casual stroll through the picnic section of any store is an adventure today. Just think what the homemaker of the gay nineties would say if she could see the quantity and variety of disposable paper and plasticized picnic ware.

There are paper plates, serving dishes, beverage containers, tablecloths, napkins. Some of the serving dishes are specially coated for hot foods, others are for cold foods. The tableware not only is useful but it's beautiful with a definite trend for attractive patterns and shapes designed for looks.

Then there are the containers—a whole world of them—some for keeping foods hot or cold, some with narrow openings and others with wide openings. Some are vacuum jugs of all sizes, others are fashioned of foam and range from small buckets to huge chests. There are refrigerators, two burner stoves and other supplies for serious campers.

Even the sandwich goes to picnic or on a journey in new dress with the plastic or plastic bags now available in packages or rolls. Aluminum foil comes in various grades for storage, barbecuing and a hundred other uses. Wax paper is an invaluable aid to the picnic-minded and makes a handy cover for any spot for food preparation as well as a wrap for food about to take a journey to park, beach or even the kitchen freezer for future picnics.

It's simply a picnic and barbecue world and that's because it's fun. So to add to the pleasure of outdoor cooking this July weekend, we suggest the following recipes that fit into a pattern of menus. Happy Independence Day.

BARBECUE CHICKEN DRUMSTICKS

- 1 (8-ounce) can tomato sauce
- 1/2 cup dark corn syrup
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon chopped onion
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 teaspoon crushed thyme
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 8 chicken drumsticks

Combine tomato sauce, corn syrup, lemon juice, onion, Worcestershire sauce, thyme and salt in a small heavy saucepan. Bring to boil, then simmer 10 minutes. Pour sauce over drumsticks in a shallow pan. Cover and let stand at least three hours in refrigerator. Turn chicken pieces several times. To cook, place drumsticks in hinged steak cooker and place on grill set about 6 inches above coals. Cook until tender, about 45 minutes, brushing occasionally with leftover sauce. Makes four servings.

CALICO RICE

- 1 cup rice (not precooked)
- 1 cup sliced celery
- 1 pimiento chopped
- Butter or margarine

Combine rice and celery in

Here's a Menu Just Made for a happy Fourth of July. It can't miss. Barbecued Chicken Drumsticks are grilled in a hinged cooker for easy turning. They are served with Calico Rice, reheated on the grill at the proper time, and French peas cooked in aluminum foil packages.

The peas are cooked with a lettuce leaf to provide flavor as well as moisture to the peas. Be sure to include bread, perhaps one of the crusty long French loaves, and an assortment of cooling carbonated beverages.

Nothing is as tempting as wieners, bratwurst, Polish or knockwurst or smoked pork links sizzling over glowing coals. For an easy-to-delicious cookout, heat and brown a favorite assortment of precooked sausages over low but glowing coals. Prepare a tray of ready-to-serve meats, a basket of rolls, relishes, a big bowl of crunchy potato salad and a large pitcher of iced drink. Make a zippy corn relish to go with the hot sausages. Serve buffet style in a favorite shady spot and you're well prepared for a relaxing holiday with or without guests.

Picnic Foods Both Bountiful, Plentiful in July

The U.S. Department of Agriculture reports a bonanza of fresh and canned foods to be served cool or at least cooked quickly this hot month.

Beef abundance continues to fill most food markets with a variety of high-quality cuts at extremely attractive prices.

One of the most bountiful harvests this summer will be fresh, tree-ripened plums. Use this colorful fruit in salads, fruit cups, desserts or easy out-of-hand eating.

An abundance of tender young turkeys offer meaty variety for summer suppers and cookouts. Canned pink salmon will provide the makings for many a salad, sandwich or quickly fixed casserole-type dish.

Look for good values in sweet corn, tomatoes, lettuce, cabbage, cucumbers, green peppers, onions, carrots and summer squash. Ripe, juicy watermelons are headed for market in great numbers too, as a summer dividend.

Soap Plaster

Here's another odd use for soap: rub a cake of wet soap over a wall to fill nail holes. Paint the surface after the soap has dried, and there will be no sign of damage.

Thermal Equipment Picnic, Camping Aid

Whether on a picnic or a camping trip, you need to have plastic foam equipment that will keep foods cool and inexpensive. Be sure either below 40 or above 150 to purchase size to fit your degrees. Thermal boxes, chests, coolers, available in a variety of styles, will protect from food to handle all your cold things borne disease.

If you plan to take prepared food, you'll need at least two containers, according to Katherine Bailey, home manager. The plastic foam isn't supposed to absorb odors, but if you plan rather elaborate meals, you'll need a size of Wisconsin. An insulated jug is handy for taking cooked dishes that you want to keep hot. You'll need another chest for cooling salads, beverages, packing plastic bags of ice cubes and desserts.

In chests or boxes, the most area you have cubes for your common kinds are a metal in-beverages and the chest is still insulated box in which you can put in the 40 degree range. It's best to help keep things cool. Of if you can have foods thorough-course, it will keep hot foods by chilled before you pack them hot, too.

fruit concentrates help to keep other things nicely chilled.

In thermos bottles the wide-mouth kind are probably most useful. They'll take ice cubes or hot soup or stew. Popular sizes are the pint, quart, half gallon and the gallon.

Zucchini Stars In Meatless Dish

Zucchini is lavished with culinary affection in this Zucchini Olive Cheese Casserole. A delicious treat, it may be served either as a substantial vegetable dish or meatless entrée. Large wedges of ripe olives give it rich looking color and they add notably to its highly satisfying flavor.

ZUCCHINI-OLIVE-CHEESE CASSEROLE

- 1/2 cup ripe olives
- 2 pounds zucchini, sliced
- 2 eggs, slightly beaten
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Dash pepper
- 1 cup grated American cheese

- 1 1/2 cups coarse soft bread crumbs
- 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

Cut olives into larger pieces. Cook zucchini in small amount of boiling salted water until tender, drain very well. Mash zucchini, stir in olives, eggs, milk, salt, pepper and cheese. Turn into lightly greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Toss crumbs in butter, sprinkle on top of zucchini mixture. Bake in 350 degree oven 50 minutes to one hour, until set in center. Recipe makes six servings.

Ramlen Court Has Pig Roast

The savory aroma of suckling pig slowly roasting over the coals filled Telulah Park Sunday afternoon as the residents of Ramlen Court held their annual picnic. The family affair started at 3 p.m. with games and prizes for the 70 youngsters who attended. Older children were occupied with a baseball game and treasure hunt. Moms and dads chatted or joined in a game of cards while they waited for the promised feast.

The main table fare was roast pig, deliciously browned and complete with an apple in its mouth. Everyone brought a dish to add to the evening's meal.

Chef Jerome Thomson, above, gets to the business on hand at the annual Ramlen Court Picnic at Telulah Park Sunday. Scott Sonleitner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Sonleitner, Hope Beyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beyer, and Laurie Begalske, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Begalske, stand by in hopes of sneaking an early taste of the roast suckling pig. Michelle Hampp, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Hampp, tests her skill at the Ramlen Court Picnic Sunday. Games and prizes were provided for the youngsters.

Mother Can Now be Part Of Hospital Medical Team

CHICAGO, ILL. — How can study financed by a federal research grant. The study is described in the current issue of a hospital association journal.

The Boston Floating Hospital for Infants and Children believes it may have the answer to a unique arrangement which allows the patient's mother to live in one of four single rooms adjacent to a nursing care area.

Each room contains a crib or bed for the child, a studio couch for the mother, and a snack-stocked refrigerator, hot plate and toaster for the mother's personal use.

administrator says. "In our program the mother's special abilities are coordinated with those of the nurse."

The project is being closely watched with the hope it will provide a new approach to better child care in the hospital of the future.

Taffy's Tips

By Dolly Martin

BRAIN-STORMING

Brain-storming is a system of producing lots of ideas in a hurry, and many of them can be great. Taffy and her friends have a brain-storming session often. The last session was on the subject of "How to Be Popular."

Listed are a few wonderful examples of their thinking:

Smile at people even without a reason.

Always be friendly.

Visit people in the hospital but not so often as to become a pest.

Let the girls you are with know you like them.

Even if you dress sloppily, look clean.

But why should anyone dress sloppily, ever?

Always have time to listen to others' problems.

Scatter from your best friends at gatherings occasionally and mix with the crowd. You can always pick up your friend when it's time to go home.

Never indulge in gossip.

Don't be stingy with compliments they are really deserved.

3 avocados
Lettuce

Arrange strips fan-shape on lettuce on six salad plates. Drizzle with dressing. Recipe makes six servings.

Make Own Broiler Pan for Small Meal

Dislike pan-washing? If you are broiling a fair number of chops or a large steak you can, of course, line the broiling pan with foil and place the rack over that. But to broil two to four chops, or a small steak, all you need is a small rack but he is one entry short. He and a pan to fit under it fasten of a double thickness of heavy foil.

Sheinwold Halt Entry Of Dummy By Lead

It's usually a good idea to attack the enemy where he is weakest, but there are also times when you must strike at his strength. Sometimes the best way to kill the dummy is to use up its entries before they become effective.

When this hand was played recently in a Swedish tournament, West opened the five of clubs, and East won with the queen. East continued with the ace of clubs, and West followed with the deuce.

lead a trump to dummy's queen and try the heart finesse. Since this loses, he is down one.

A switch to hearts at the third trick would be correct if East held only K-Q-x of diamonds. East would then be in a hurry to grab his heart tricks before the diamonds came in. With East's actual holding, the attack on dummy's entries would be more effective.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes. You hold: S 6 4; H J 10 9; D K Q 9 6; C A Q 9 4. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two clubs. The hand is one point light for a jump to 2 NT, besides which you have no sure stopper in hearts. Mark time by bidding a suit, and try no trump at your next turn.

Holiday Flag Cake Fits Tradition For Fourth of July

Ever since the first Fourth of July, in Philadelphia in 1776, neighborhood can be up earliest the day has been marked by to set off the first firecracker, fireworks and special dinners fireworks are formal. For safe-ty's sake, they're set off by experts.

Dinner traditions remain, however. For years in New England, it's been baked salmon and new green peas. In the Southwest, it's barbecued chicken roasted in a heavy brown paper bag to keep the barbecue sauce around the chicken. In the Midwest, family reunion picnics are traditional. Fried chicken, baked ham, green salad, homemade ice cream, and cake are the order of the day.

A cake special enough for the occasion is this Holiday Flag Cake, striped with red maraschino cherries and coconut.

HOLIDAY FLAG CAKE

1 pound package angel food cake mix
1 (2-ounce) package lemon
1 cup chopped walnuts
1 cup chopped maraschino cherries (about 10 cherries)
1 cup flaked coconut
Maraschino cherry halves

Prepare angel food cake batter according to package directions. Turn into 15 1/2 x 10 1/2 x 1-inch baking pan. Bake in preheated 375-degree oven 20 minutes, or until cake test is done. Cool and cut in half crosswise. Meanwhile, prepare chiffon pie filling according to package directions. Fold half cup walnuts and quarter cup chopped cherries into two cups chiffon mixture. Spread over one layer. Top with remaining layer and frost sides and top with remaining chiffon mixture.

To make flag pattern, sprinkle coconut over top of cake. Arrange remaining walnuts on top left and make a ring with coconut in center to represent 13 colonies. Make seven stripes with maraschino cherry halves. Chill until firm.

Chill until firm.

Plastic Bed Tray

If a bed tray is needed, choose one made of plastic so it can be sanitized when the patient recovers. Just scrub every inch of it with hot soap or detergent suds, then rinse with boiling water.

This Fourth of July Cake, made from angel food cake mix, is baked in a jelly roll pan, cut in half and put together with lemon chiffon pie filling. The stripes in the flag are made with coconut and red maraschino cherries.

Barbecue Menus for Patriotic Holiday

French Peas
4 lettuce leaves
2 cups frozen peas
1 onion slice, separated into rings
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
Butter or margarine
4 tablespoons dark corn syrup

Place each lettuce leaf on a square of heavy duty aluminum foil large enough to wrap around half cup of peas. Place half cup of peas in each lettuce leaf. Top with onion rings; season with salt and pepper. Dot each portion with butter and top with tablespoon corn syrup. Wrap, sealing foil with double fold. Place on grill set about six inches above coals. Cook about 30 minutes. Makes four servings.

Grilled Sausage Links

Arrange your favorite assortment of precooked sausage links—franks or wieners, brat, Polish or knockwurst, on a grill or in wire flipper basket. Place six or eight inches above low glowing coals and allow to heat and brown. Serve plain, with favorite fixings or corn relish barbecue sauce.

Corn Relish Barbecue Sauce
1 jar (16 ounce) corn relish (about 1 cup)
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup catsup
1/2 cup water

Combine ingredients; simmer to blend flavors, about 15 minutes. Serve hot with grilled sausages. Recipe makes about two and one-half cups.

Crunchy Potato Salad with Bologna

2 cups sliced cooked potatoes
1 cup diagonally sliced celery
1 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup diced radishes
1/2 cup chopped sweet pickle
1 cup diced bologna, cotto salami, cervelat, summer sausage or New England brand sausage
2 hard cooked eggs, coarsely chopped
1/2 cup chopped ripe olives
1/2 cup salad dressing or mayonnaise
1 teaspoon prepared mustard

Combine ingredients; stir gently until ingredients are coated with dressing. Chill. Recipe makes six servings.

TO BARBECUE T-BONES

Slash fat edges of T-Bone steaks, cutting up to one inch, to prevent curling. Prepare surfaces of steak, one side at a time, with instant tenderizer. This same procedure is followed for all steaks to keep them juicy and tender. Moisten meat with water, then sprinkle with instant meat tenderizer, like salt, over surface, using about one-half teaspoon tenderizer per pound of meat. Use no salt. To insure penetration, the meat may be pierced with a kitchen fork at half-inch intervals, except for ground beef patties.

The meat is then ready for immediate cooking.

Place T-Bone steak on barbecue grill one inch above hot coals (gray and hot but not flaming). Cook about 10 to 12 minutes, depending on doneness desired.

BARBECUED FAMILY STEAK

This steak usually is cut two inches thick and weighs between three and three and one-half pounds, if boned. It may be top or bottom round steak or sirloin. If the bone is left in the meat it should weigh a little more, up to four pounds.

Prepare with instant meat tenderizer then place on barbecue grill about two inches above the coals. Barbecue 25 minutes for rare meat, 30 minutes for medium. Turn frequently to help even cooking.

Place on meat board to carve. Use a sharp knife, cutting steak in thin diagonal slices at about a 30-degree angle to the meat board instead of perpendicular. Three or more slices make a generous serving.

TO BARBECUE HAMBURGERS

Simply sprinkle meat tenderizer on both sides of meat patties just before barbecuing. Immediately barbecue on grill, placing patties one inch above hot coals. Cook about four minutes on each side, depending on degree of doneness desired. Buns also may be placed on grill for toasting, if desired.

GREEN SALAD WITH MAURICE DRESSING

Lettuce, escarole or chicory (bite-sized pieces)
Tomato strips
Avocado strips
Pickle strips

1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup lemon juice
2 cups salad oil (preferably olive)
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon instant meat tenderizer
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon paprika
4 green onions, thinly sliced (tops and all)

Arrange greens in bowl. Arrange julienne strips of tomato, avocado and pickle on top (thin strips of green pepper, carrot, beets and cooked ham or turkey also are excellent). Spoon dressing over the top just before serving.

To make the dressing, beat together ingredients in second portion of above recipe. Makes about two and one-half cups dressing.

STUFFED ZUCCHINI

8 small-sized zucchinis
1 cup fresh bread crumbs
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 teaspoon minced onion
2 eggs, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons salad oil (preferably olive)
1/2 teaspoon thyme
1/2 teaspoon instant meat tenderizer

Garlic salt to taste

Your Problems

Workings of Nature Aren't Always Best for Business

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My doctor told me our baby will be born in July between the 26th and the 31st.

Last week my husband asked if the doctor could be wrong and if the baby might come after July 31st. That seemed like an off question so I asked what he had in mind. He replied, "July 31st is the end of the fiscal year of my business and I hope the baby isn't late or I will lose the deduction." I felt rather badly about that remark.

This morning I had a few pains and my husband said, "Wouldn't it be wonderful if the baby was premature?" This really burned me up. He then said most women love premature births so they can avoid those last miserable weeks of pregnancy. He added, "You should be so lucky."

Please see this ignoramus straight on the working of nature. — Mrs. P. G.

DEAR P. G.: The ignoramus may not know much about the workings of nature but I presume he knows his own business.

The normal tax year ends December 31st, but apparently he has received special permission from the Internal Revenue Service to end his tax year July 31.

Now about the workings of nature: A full term baby is best — unless nature or the physician decides otherwise.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Three months ago my husband came home from work and told me he was going to join the Army because he hated his job. Ollie said his happiest days were in the service (before we were married) and he wanted to make the Army his career. He suggested I take the baby and live with my mother until he could send for us. Knowing how much Ollie is I didn't try to talk him out of it.

For the last month I've been getting letters from Ollie saying he falls in bed dead every night and he isn't as young as he used to be. He hates his sergeant and his feet are killing him. I wrote him cheerful letters in return saying we are all well and happy, hoping to perk him up. Yesterday Ollie wrote back saying, "Don't tell how well and happy you are. Tell me you are having a nervous breakdown and that you need me home. I want to get out of here." What shall I do? — Mrs. C.

DEAR Mrs. C.: Continue to tell Ollie how well and happy you are—plus all the other cheery tidbits you can think of. You might also tell him that since he's going to have to serve his hitch he'd jolly well better make the best of it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I are in our mid 50's. Our two daughters, 23 and 25, are supporting themselves, one teachers school, the other is a stenographer. Both girls live in boarding houses, about 30 miles from here in opposite directions. They come home every Friday, bringing their dresses to be hemmed and their soiled laundry for me to wash. They leave late Sunday.

My husband and I worked hard to educate our daughters. He is a laborer and I am a seamstress. Our income is sufficient for us, but nothing is left over for extras or saving.

My question: How much are parents expected to do for their children — and for how long? These girls have many friends over and they consume more food during the weekend than we do in two weeks. Never once have they bought so much as a spool of thread or a box of soap for their laundry.

My husband says this is their home and they are entitled to come here as guests whenever they want to. What do you think? — Weary Mom

DEAR Weary: Girls who come home every weekend with soiled laundry and dresses to be hemmed could hardly be considered guests. Your daughters are living home about one-third of the time whether they realize it or not. If they wish to continue they should agree to buy all the weekend groceries and do their own laundry.

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

EAGER BEAVER

Dear Louise: At the time I was being invited to a party, the hostess asked me to bring a gift. I am 17 years old and so is the boy I asked. In six weeks, my club is having a large dinner dance and each member must bring a date. Would it be proper to ask Miss Davis this same boy again even if he does not invite me out in the meantime? Do you think he would think I'm chasing him? He is good looking and lots of fun. I would prefer his company to that of anyone else.

Louise Davis Answers: You would be a wise girl to mark time, hoping your favorite boy will ask you for a date. If he doesn't, don't show that you're an eager beaver. Play your cards and invite some other boy.

INSERTING GREETING CARDS

Dear Louise: Which is the correct way of inserting a greeting card in an envelope. I would say face down so that the picture does not get damaged from the glue on the flap.

Louise Davis Answers: There is no hard and fast rule about inserting a greeting card. However, I recommend the opposite way to your theory. If a card is properly inserted face up, the card won't be damaged. When receivers open their envelopes, they do it from the flap side and can read the message on cards without having to turn them over.

Worst Circus Disaster in History At Hartford, Conn., 20 Years Ago

BY LOU BLACK

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Children making happy noises today in a sprawling yard behind a modern schoolhouse. They're unaware this was the city's circus ground 20 years ago, and the scene of America's worst circus disaster.

On hot and humid July 6, 1944 fire broke out during a matinee performance of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Circus, in town for a one-day stand under the big tent.

The fire left 168 dead, more than 500 injured; many were trampled to death in the panic, others died of burns and still others of suffocation.

The holocaust resulted in a tough new police safety code requiring canvas to be flame-proof.

"We have awakened many nights, and even now, I wake up screaming," says Mrs. Dunn. "For many years, I was top scared to be caught in a crowd."

For moments, the flame near the main entrance looked small enough to be extinguished with a bucket of water. Then within seconds, blown by the sudden wind, the flame grew.

By 3 p.m., the circus ground was a smoldering bier. Merle Evans led his 29-piece band through a snappy opening of 20 years, Mrs. Dunn recalls.

"With the fire drawing nearer, I told Herbert we had to jump. It was about 25 feet down. I pushed him and, with Betsy on my shoulders, I jumped right after him."

"We were lucky that the ground was soft. We weren't hurt. We crawled over countless bodies and suddenly there was an exit where somebody had cut a hole and removed a tent flap."

"Once we were outside, we still had to climb over rows of dead and injured people before we were led to safety."

What caused the fire? It was never officially established, but the explanation most generally accepted was that it started from a cigarette carelessly tossed aside in a men's room.

Just outside the main entrance, six circus officials were charged with involuntary manslaughter. The official finding of the coroner held them guilty of "wanton and reckless conduct, either of commission or of omission where there is a duty to act."

They pleaded no contest and conditions to go on.

National Traffic Deaths Continue An Upward Trend

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's traffic deaths in May continued an upward trend dating back 2½ years and hit record highs, the National Safety Council reported today.

The month's toll was 3,950. The total for the first five months of 1964 was 17,300. Both exceeded previous records set a year ago, May by 9 per cent, the five months by 13 per cent.

May was the 29th of the last 31 months to show an increase in traffic deaths.

Although the amount of travel rose 6 per cent to 334 billion miles, the death rate per 100 million also increased. The five-month death rate, 5.2, represented a 6 per cent increase over last year.

Braves Longest Win String Broken, 6-1

Javier Hits 3-Run Homer For Cardinals

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The biggest victory bubble of the season pumped up by the Milwaukee Braves has burst before the pitching of Curt Simmons and the slugging of Julian Javier of the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Cardinals were the early birds Wednesday night, striking for three runs in their third and fourth inning batting turns en route to a 6-1 victory over the Braves.

The loss snapped Milwaukee's five-game winning streak—longest of the season—and dropped the Braves a notch in the standings to seventh place while the Cards regained the sixth position.

Javier smacked a three-run homer and singled in another as Simmons, aided by great fielding support, spaced seven hits in 11 taking his third victory of the year over the Braves while boosting his season mark to 9 and 6.

Leaping Catch
Curt Flood made leaping catch against the centerfield wall in the sixth to drag down a drive by Joe Torre and Lou Brock leaped high against the wall in left to make a spectacular catch of a Rico Carty drive to end the game.

The Braves didn't get their run until the ninth when Aaron opened the inning with a double, got to third on a fly out by Torre and scored on an infield out by Gene Oliver.

Milwaukee had runners on base in every inning but the seventh.

The Braves used five hurlers, with the loss going to starter Hank Fischer who failed to stay through the second inning. He

Giants Hike Lead As Koufax Checks Philadelphia, 3-2

Sandy and Marichal Both Chalk Up 11th Victories

BY MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax just can't shake Juan Marichal.

Or is it the other way around? Koufax had his greatest season in 1963, winning 25 games. And so did Marichal.

Now Koufax, with seven straight victories, has brought his victory total for this season to 11. And so has Marichal.

Marichal, the right-handed ace of the National League leading San Francisco Giants, got in a little earlier this time, becoming the majors' first 11-game

Norwegian Sets Javelin Record

Pedersen Hits 285 Feet, 10 Inches in International Test

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Who is this Terje Pedersen who bettered the world javelin record with a throw of 285 feet, 10 inches Wednesday?

He is a 20-year-old student of the blonde, blue-eyed Viking type, who weighs 209 pounds. He has his eyes fixed on the Tokyo Olympics this fall and a mark of 90 meters or 295 feet, three inches.

Pedersen's feat came Wednesday night in an international meet against the Benelux countries at Beslet Stadium. The throw that bettered the listed world mark of 284-7 came on his fifth try. Italy's Carlo Lievore set the 284-7 mark at Milan June 1, 1961.

Surrounded by jubilant fellow contestants and officials, Pedersen said he will take it easy in the next few weeks "because I don't want to get into top form yet."

He disclosed that he trains six days a week. In four of them he uses weights. In the other two he throws the javelin.

"But I never do better than 246 feet during training sessions," he said. He would not predict what his maximum might be in the future. He said only "if I do not become better than this, I'll start wondering."

His fellow contestants pinpointed the 90 meters.

McKinley Loses Wimbledon Title

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Wilhelm Bungert of Germany, beaten 6-3, 15-13, 6-0 by top-seeded Roy Emerson of Australia, said he wouldn't come to Wimbledon if it was open.

Emerson, 28, who is making his 11th bid for the Wimbledon tournament, said "I'm happy with the tournament the way it is."

Billie Jean Moffitt, the American Wightman Cup star from Long Beach, Calif., was the only American hope left in the tournament. She faced top-seeded Margaret Smith, the defending champion, on the center court in a semifinal match.

Two stars eliminated from the men's singles in Wednesday's semi-finals made it clear they agree with that stand. McKinley, beaten by Fred Stolle of Australia 4-6, 10-8, 9-7, 6-4, said Wimbledon is thriving as an amateur tournament and would gain nothing by admitting the pros.

Brandt Goes Skyward for Winning Hit

Too Much Stress Put on Jackie's Antics, Says Bauer

BALTIMORE (AP)—No matter how hard he tries, Manager Hank Bauer of the Baltimore Orioles would have a hard time forgetting Jack Brandt.

"I'm going to put him out in center field, and forget about him," Bauer said before the start of the season, when asked how he would handle the irrepresible outfielder.

It was Bauer's contention that too much is written and said about Brandt's statements and antics, which have earned him the nickname of Flakey.

"Jack's beginning to believe this stuff himself," Bauer said. "The less said about it, the better."

Nevertheless, where Brandt goes, the unusual is certain to follow.

Reaches Above Head

Brandt reached above his head in the eighth inning Wednesday night to smack a 1-2 pitch from Dean Chance into left field and knock in the tying and winning runs in a 4-2 victory over the Los Angeles Angels.

Then, in typical Jackie jargon, Brandt described his winning hit:

"I'm glad I had a long bat. I strained both insteps reaching for that one."

The hit stretched Brandt's hitting streak to 12 games and left him with a .276 average.

How does he feel being more or less ignored this year?

"That's the way it should be," he said. "No one can pump you up by talking. A car runs out of gas, not a person. We always play as hard as we can."

And what's this about break-course, is the Olympics?

"The other is breaking Dad's."

No Concessions to Other Clubs by Bragan

MILWAUKEE (AP)—With hurler Curt Simmons who went the distance in taking his ninth victory against six defeats.

"You spot a guy like Simmons six runs," said Bragan, "and your chances of moving ahead are that much more difficult."

He said that even though the Cards had snapped the Braves in Chicago.

The Braves slipped to seventh place Wednesday night when defeated 6-1 by the St. Louis Cardinals, who replaced Milwaukee as the sixth place club.

Milwaukee is 10 games off the pace and trailed St. Louis by half a game and had a half game lead over the eighth place Los Angeles Dodgers in the still tight National League race.

Lot Can Happen

"A lot can happen," said Bragan. "It's anybody's race so far. A team can lose five and drop from sixth to ninth place. It can win five and go from ninth to sixth, as we did. There are only four to five games between third and ninth."

Bragan said the "whole story" in Wednesday night's game was the Cards' veteran

Tebbetts to Rejoin Indians Friday Night

DETROIT (AP)—Birdie Tebbetts, who is improving daily after suffering a heart attack, will be back Friday with the slumped Cleveland Indians.

The Tribe manager, who was stricken April 1 in spring training, got the doctors' okay Wednesday after tests in Cleveland Clinic. He will join the Indians

Phillies' Jim Bunning, Twins' Camilo Pascual Likely All-Star Starters

Rival Managers Pick 17 Hurlers To Complete Teams

NEW YORK (AP)—Perfect game pitcher Jim Bunning of the Philadelphia Phillies and 20-game winning candidate Camilo Pascual of the Minnesota Twins are the early choices to oppose each other in the major league All-Star game at Shea Stadium next Tuesday.

The two star right-handers were among the 17 pitchers selected by rival All-Star Manager Walter Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox. Alston picked seven pitchers, Lopez eight.

Alston selected four right-handers and three left-handers. The southpaws included Dodger Sandy Koufax, whose 10 victories include a no-hitter against Philadelphia; Dick Ellsworth, who has won 10 games for the Chicago Cubs and Chris Short of the Phillies, who owns a 6-4 record.

The right-handers, besides Bunning, include the Dodgers' Don Drysdale (10-7), Juan Marchal of the San Francisco Giants (11-3), and still another 10-game winner, Dick Farrell of the Houston Colts.

Lopez picked four right-handers and four left-handers. In addition to Pascual, an eight game winner, other right-handers were Dick Radatz of Boston and John Wyatt of Kansas City. Radatz and Wyatt are bullpen specialists who own 11 victories and 28 saves between them.

Whitey Ford, dean of the New York Yankee pitching staff, headed the southpaws. The left-handed list included Jack Krack of Cleveland and Gary Peters and Juan Pizarro of Lopez's Chicago White Sox. Ford has won his last 10 decisions after an opening day loss. Pizarro has won 10, Kralick eight and Peters seven.

Although Koufax and Ford rate among the most glamorous names in baseball, the starting choices are likely to be right-handers because of the preponderance of right-handed hitters in the starting line-ups of both squads.

Billy Williams of the Cubs is the only left-handed hitter among the NL starters. Tony Oliva of Minnesota is the only strictly southpaw swinger in the AL starting line-up. Mickey Mantle of the Yankees is a switch hitter.

The State Conservation Department said Wednesday in its weekly report that fishing was hotter than the weather.

A 29-pound muskellunge was hauled from the Chippewa Flowage to take honors in the Hayward Muskie Festival, but the biggest reported catch was a 50-pound sturgeon pulled from the St. Croix River.

A fisherman angling for bluegills in Yellowstone Lake in Lafayette County took home a 20-pound catfish instead.

The lower Wisconsin River was beginning to show some small mouth bass activity and walleye catches were running heavy in Callahan and Grindstone lakes in Sawyer County.

Panfishing was listed as good in almost all sections of Wisconsin and perch still were biting on the Racine and Kenosha Lake Michigan shoreline.

Captain Never Sails Out of Sight of Great Copper Lady

BY HAL BOYLE with the torch remains a dominant interest in the 54-year-old life. He feels that in a way he "owns a piece" of her. I'll do it when I retire."

But the great copper lady July—marks the 80th anniversary of the acceptance of the statue as a gift of the French people.

Proud as a bantam rooster, Capt. Clancy will be at the helm today of a spanking new vessel, "Miss Circle Line," as she makes her inaugural trip out to Liberty Island amid a welcoming din from other ships in the harbor. She cost $550,000, is 156 feet long, and will carry 1,637 passengers. According to Francis J. Barry, Circle Lines president, she is the largest vessel of her type built in this country in 35 years. Some tourist attractions here, such as the Woolworth Tower, the Flatiron building and Grant's Tomb, have waned and waned in favor. But the popularity of the Statue of Liberty has increased with the passage of time. Recently from $50,000 to $80,000 people have come to see her each year. That figure is expected to rise to at least one million annually during the New York World's Fair period.

Khrushchev's Scandinavian Visit Appearing Pointless

BY RONALD THOMSON OSLO, Norway (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev's 18-day visit to Scandinavia promises to be remembered as a journey into pointlessness. Apart from some agreements to expand trade, Khrushchev's tour has produced no practical results of importance either politically or commercially. It is almost as if neither the Soviets nor the Scandinavians really see much use in trying to get on closer terms.

Denmark's Socialist Premier Jens Otto Krag was miffed by a Khrushchev dig at his "capitalist state" during an informal television program. In Sweden, Khrushchev also wrote off a typical farm as "too small" and he flustered Premier Tage Erlander in an astonishing, half-serious, half-jocular luncheon speech. He demanded to know whether Erlander planned to join anti-Communist Ukrainian exiles in an attack on the Soviet Union. Khrushchev was angry because during his five-day stay one Ukrainian exile leader went to Sweden and laid a wreath at a statue of King Charles XII who invaded Russia at the start of the 18th century. Free Country "Khrushchev doesn't realize that we just don't bar people from a free country like Sweden unless they are criminals or something," one Swedish official said. The visit, which ends Saturday, thus far has seemed to add no new dimensions to Soviet-Scandinavian relations. People have been curious to see the Soviet leader but there has been no enthusiasm. Khrushchev's routes have not been published in advance for security reasons, which makes

Greece Suffers Depletion of Its Population

Emigration, Reduced Birth Rate Felt in Pool of Workers

BY PHILIP DOPOLAKS ATHENS, Greece (AP)—There are fewer Greek babies nowadays. At the same time the country is losing 100,000 emigrants a year. The Greek government faces the prospect of a developing labor shortage. The Athens Chamber of Commerce and Industry notes a lack of hands for this year's harvest of cotton, olives, tobacco and raisins. "Lack of labor for the country's growing industries is also known," it says. The basic motives for emigration are an insufficiency of new employment, technological unemployment and the difference in wages paid in Greece and other Western European nations. Most Greek students who study abroad refuse to return home, creating a shortage of technically trained personnel. More people are emigrating every year than are reaching the working age of 16. In 1938 the birthrate was 26 births per 1,000 persons. Last year it was 18 per 1,000. The population has remained fairly steady, at around 8 1/2 million, and in fact it rose 1 per cent last year due to longer life and repatriation. Many Greeks are returning from Egypt, African nations and Turkey, where commercial restrictions and political upheavals have forced them to abandon businesses. More than 250,000 skilled and non-skilled workers have gone abroad since 1962. Over 140,000 are in Germany. No Greek government has gone on record against emigration because of the money the emigrants send home. Invisible resources — emigrants' remittances, tourism, and shipping — have been a major source for balancing the trade deficit for years. The United States ceased giving Greece grant in aid two years ago, but it ships excess agricultural products.

Red, white, & blue retirement plan

Sure, you'll have social security. Maybe an insurance plan, company pension and money in the bank to boot.

But buying U. S. Savings Bonds is also an excellent way to prepare for that day when you start taking it easy full time.

If you buy one a month at $37.50 for 7 1/2 years before you retire, you'll have $50.00 a month coming in for 7 1/2 years after. (That's just an example. You can adjust the dollars and the years to suit yourself.)

Something else to think about: Bonds can help make sure you'll have a future to retire to in the first place. The money does a lot to strengthen Uncle Sam's hand in the free world.

Why not make it a habit to buy Bonds regularly where you bank, or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work? See if you don't feel pretty good about it—now and later.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

- You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity (7 1/2 years)
- You pay no state or local tax and can defer the federal tax until the Bonds are cashed
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen
- You can get your money when you need it

13 Race Pickets Sleeping Neenah Held in Chicago Woman Is Stabbed

Refuse to Leave
Office Until Their Demands Are Met

CHICAGO (AP) — Police arrested 13 members of the Congress of Racial Equality Wednesday night for refusing to leave a city building commissioner's office until he met their demands for rat extermination and housing code enforcement programs.

Those arrested were charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest and were held under $200 bond each.

Earlier in the day, 150 pickets congregated in front of the building on the North Side of the business district to protest poor housing conditions for Negroes.

Make 2 Demands

The demonstrators arrested met with Sidney J. Smith, acting building commissioner, and presented two demands:

1. That the city immediately begin a massive inspection and extermination program to rid the city of rats and vermin.

2. That the city immediately hire 250 unemployed persons to begin inspection and extermination in "ghetto areas."

Smith said the second demand was impossible since his present budget would not provide for hiring a force so large. He presently has a staff of 39 working on inspection and extermination.

The demonstrators threatened to "wait all year" outside Smith's office.

Robert Lynskey, commander of the police task force, told them that "we are not going to allow you to take over any office or part of this building."

Auto of Murder Victim Burned

LOGANSPOUT, Ind. (AP) — The slayer of a Kokomo furniture store executive apparently drove the victim's car to Chicago, where it has been located, police said today.

The car, burned, was found Monday in an empty lot near Chicago's Loop, but was not identified as that of Gerald Shafer, 41, until Wednesday.

A burned and battered 1964 Illinois license plate found in a Kokomo alley two blocks from where Shafer lived added further mystery to the slaying of the Kokomo man.

Shafer's badly beaten body was found Sunday in weeds along a rural road southeast of Logansport. The throat had been cut and the body was clothed only in Bermuda shorts, undershorts with hearts on them and socks.

Shafer was from Galesburg, Ill., but had worked in Madison, Wis., for the Leathe & Co. furniture chain before becoming credit manager for the firm in Kokomo last February.

U. S. Tells Soviets Nuclear Forces Aim to Protect Allies in Europe

BY DORIAN FALK

GENEVA (AP) — In a sharp reply to the Soviet Union, the United States said today the planned Western Allies' multinational nuclear forces is designed only to protect Western Europe against the Soviet nuclear threat.

U.S. delegate William C. Foster defended the Western project against a new Soviet attack in the 17-nation disarmament talks. Foster said a spread of nuclear weapons in the world was the only alternative to the seaborne nuclear force.

Foster blamed the Soviet Union for using "groundless political arguments against the nuclear force in the pursuit of its longstanding aim to disrupt defensive arrangements of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization."

Rockets Called Menace

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin declared earlier that all efforts for an East-West agreement to stop the spread of nuclear arms will break down unless the United States renounces the nuclear force plan quickly.

Foster told the meeting that the force of ships armed with nuclear weapons is being devised "to enable members of

Over Holiday

Cars, Radar Used
To Avert Accidents

MADISON (AP) — The State

Traffic Patrol will use airplanes, concealed radar and unmarked cars to catch traffic violators during the July 4 holiday, James L. Karns, head of the State Motor Vehicle Department, said Wednesday.

Karns called on officers in all branches of Wisconsin police units for an enforcement effort that "will be the strongest ever put forth in the state."

He said that thousands of city and county police and nearly 250 state patrolmen will be on duty during the holiday weekend.

Military Vehicles to Move

Adding to the flow of holiday traffic will be some 600 military vehicles moving Illinois' 33rd National Guard Division to summer training at Camp Ripley, Minn.

Dan Schultz, the department's safety director, said most of the vehicles will enter Wisconsin Saturday on Highways 10, 12 and 13 and Interstate 90 and 94. He suggested motorists consider routes to avoid the convoys on undivided highways.

Karns said that the use of concealed radar by state officers is a departure from standard policy, but he said he did not consider it a police trap.

"Instead, we look upon it as a legal means of apprehending violators who are disregarding speeds laws made by our Legislature in the interest of public safety," he said.

Patrol officers will use about 25 unmarked cars, Karns said, to get the enforcement message to those motorists who are possessed with a rearview mirror complex and apparently obey the law only when officers are near.

29 Vietnamese Troopers
Killed in Jungle; Saigon
Claims Victory Elsewhere

BY PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Viet Cong guerrillas ambushed and destroyed an army convoy in the jungles of the central highlands Wednesday, killing 29 government troops.

But the Vietnamese Defense Ministry also reported today that government forces killed 104 guerrillas in a mopping up operation a few miles north of the ambush.

The nine-truck convoy was hit along Route 19, where a whole French mobile brigade was wiped out in 1954.

The convoy was making its way with military supplies from the coastal city of Qui Nhon, 250 miles north of Saigon, to Pleiku in the interior.

Hit Trucks With Mines

The Viet Cong smashed the trucks with mines, then overran them. They gathered up a machine gun and 30 individual weapons before melting into the jungle.

U.S. helicopters roared in over the convoy while the Viet Cong was stripping it of weapons. Zooming in on the black clad guerrillas with guns blazing, the Americans kept the Viet Cong from carrying off thousands of rounds of heavy artillery shells until reinforcements arrived by road.

The Defense Ministry said many government troops were wounded and five were missing. It said the Viet Cong lost three men.

In the operation in Kontum Province, 25 miles north of Pleiku, government troops found 59 Viet Cong bodies and captured considerable supplies of Communist weapons, the Defense Ministry said. The operation had been going on for some time and ended Wednesday.

Bombing in Saigon

A terrorist lobbed an explosive device in Saigon today, slightly injuring two American servicemen and a Chinese passer-by.

The incident occurred on a sidewalk near a U.S. officers' billet at 7 a.m. An American spokesman said one of the soldiers was hit by fragments and the other hurt his leg when he dropped to the ground to avoid the blast.

The U.S. combat toll rose to 149 dead Wednesday when a Viet Cong sniper killed the pilot of a medical evacuation helicopter in the Mekong River delta 53 miles southwest of Saigon. The helicopter had picked up a wounded American and was taking off.

Three other Americans on the helicopter veered out of control and overturned. The wounded man and the three helicopter crewmen were taken to Saigon by another helicopter.

Civil Rights
Passage Seen
Today in House

Johnson Expected
To Sign Measure
Almost at Once

WASHINGTON (AP) — The long congressional fight over civil rights legislation comes to an end today as the House votes on the far-reaching measure already passed by the Senate.

Overwhelming approval is a foregone conclusion, the House having passed last February, 290 to 130, a bill that was revised in only minor ways by the Senate during its historic three-month debate.

Without waiting until July 4th as some sources had indicated, President Johnson is expected to sign the bill into law speedily in hopes it can start easing racial tensions. Many of its Southern critics, however, predict it will only inflame the situation.

Compromise Bill

For more than a year the bill was the subject of intensive negotiations in both the House and Senate before it finally emerged as a compromise package supported by Democratic and Republican leaders in Congress.

The bill wraps into one big bundle a number of measures designed to help Negroes achieve equality in nearly all phases of national life into step merely sets the ceiling on which the federal government can reach.

It bars discrimination in employment practices—by both unions and employers—and in hotels, motels, restaurants, movies, and other places serving the public. It arms the government with powers to cut off federal funds for programs in which discrimination occurs.

New Federal Powers

It also grants new powers to the attorney general to speed desegregation of public schools and other public facilities, such as parks, playgrounds and libraries.

It tightens provisions contained in the first civil rights law passed this century—in 1957—aimed at protecting Negro voting rights.

It also creates a community relations service designed to provide machinery for voluntary settlement of racial disputes through mediation and conciliation.

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, brother of the former president, has been given a seat on the Maryland delegation to the Republican National Convention.

Refuses to Make Cuts
In Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has hailed House passage of a $3.3-billion foreign aid bill as a victory for American foreign policy and the American people.

Final House action on the measure came late Wednesday after Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., was defeated in his efforts to make further cuts in the total which already had been reduced to $200 million from Johnson's original "barebones" request for $3.5 billion. The reduction was the smallest since the Korean War.

Johnson promptly issued a statement saying the House action was "in line with the best interests of America and the best interests of the Free World."

Major Victory

"I congratulate the members who backed a measure which was realistically and honestly conceived. This is an important victory for American foreign policy and that means for every American citizen."

Passage came on a 231-174 roll call vote, with 176 Democrats and 55 Republicans voting in favor of the measure. Opposing it were 63 Democrats and 111 Republicans.

The appropriations measure provides the foreign aid money was then sent to the Senate, where the Foreign Relations Committee is working on the President's foreign aid authorization request. This first step merely sets the ceiling on foreign aid spending. Action on the authorization will follow.

Blow to Passman

Wednesday's vote ended 10 years of dominant influence by Passman over foreign aid funds in the House. He is chairman of a House Appropriations subcommittee that handles foreign aid.

But he pledged to "keep on fighting this monstrosity" and asked "I don't think 9 times

Future Swine Marketing Order Proposal Discussed

A swine marketing order which would affect all hog producers marketing hogs for slaughter and all feeder pigs exported from the state was the subject of an informational meeting at Green Bay Tuesday, according to Courtney Schwartz, Outagamie Extension agent.

The program is jointly sponsored by the Wisconsin Swine Breeders Association and the Agricultural Extension Service of the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture.

On April 1, 1964, a petition with 126 signatures of Wisconsin swine producers was presented to the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture for the purpose of initiating a swine marketing order which would assess five cents against each hog.

Schwartz said the proceeds would be collected through a "check-off" and would be used for research and promotion with the major emphasis on research in the areas of disease, genetics, and meats and environment.

The various phases of the marketing order will be: Registering Mr. Scott Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moreland, C. C. Mullarkey, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nebel, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Nolan, Mr. and Mrs. George Nuske, Dr. and Mrs. Peter Oberhauser, Mr. and Mrs. James Otto, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Otto, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Paape, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Peterson, Dr. and Mrs. L. W. cent of the hogs marketed, or Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. John 51 per cent of the producers producing 65 per cent of the hogs marketed in the preceding year, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Schauder.

Decision of the director based on the hearings. A favorable decision will mean a referendum by all registered swine producers.

A favorable vote would have to be assented by 65 per cent of the producers producing 51 per cent of the hogs marketed, or Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. John 51 per cent of the producers producing 65 per cent of the hogs marketed in the preceding year, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Schauder.

Named to the board of directors were Carl Blom and Elroy Schuelke. Blom, Ike Thompson, Walter Lehman and Martin Stuewer were awarded 13-year perfect attendance pins. Other club members received attendance awards ranging from two to six years.

Outagamie County Board Urged to Rescind Ruling That Allowed Construction

Lecker has said the road is needed for fire protection in case there would be grass fire or a woods fire back there in that part of the park.

And besides, he said, the Boy Scouts have expressed an interest in having a shelter house in that part of the park and they would need access.

When the shelter house is built, we'd have to have a service road go back there anyway.

At the July 12 meeting, the board passed a resolution to rescind its action at its April 12 meeting.

Many supervisors were devalued when they voted on the resolution. We didn't know what they were voting on.

He said the original Apple Creek comes across the park in a north-south direction and then it turns to the east.

Threaten Legal Action To Halt Road Building

goes out again into the park. By putting in his road, he's filled in the creek and re-routed it. And we have another ditch behind our house that he completely filled. This ditch connects with Apple Creek," Wolsiegal said.

He claimed that by filling in the creek Lecker has initiated a flooding problem when the water is high during spring.

Mrs. Wolsiegal said objectors to the road "run into stone walls wherever they go" because "he (Lecker) is a member of the county board town chairman, chairman of the county board's park committee and a member of the regional planning commission. Every group that we could go to in order to complain has Lecker as a member."

Plans to Sub-divide

Mrs. Plamann said Lecker already has access to the approximately 180 acres of land which he admits he plans to plat and sub-divide.

Lecker's land has frontage on Meade and Broadway streets.

"But," Lecker said, "if I was to put in an access road from either Meade or Broadway, it would have to be a three-fourths mile road instead of a 742-foot road."

Mr. and Mrs. Wolsiegal also have complained that the road passes within 20 feet of the northwest corner of their house. According to Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission recommendations and the Outagamie County zoning ordinance adopted by the Town of Grand Chute, a home must have a 37-foot setback from a town road.

County Highway Commissioner Clarence Brownson said formal application for the road construction never went to him or to the highway committee.

Town's Responsibility

Brownson said he knew the road was to have a 66-foot right-of-way which he said, "is permissible." But Brownson said he didn't know how close the road would be to Wolsiegal's home.

"It's the town's responsibility to enforce the zoning ordinance," Brownson said.

Lecker said the ordinance "says a home cannot be built within 20 feet of a road, but doesn't say anything is wrong with building a road 20 feet from a house."

Elvyn Lillge, a son-in-law of Mrs. Plamann, said no legal action would be started if the creek is cut through again "and the roadway is reseeded and allowed to return back to its original state." Mrs. Plamann said a fence must be returned so that the park is completely encircled by it.

Lecker said that if the county board decides to order the road project abandoned "neither me or my daughters should have to pay for any of the costs."

'Acted in Good Faith'

"Why should my daughters foot the bill if they don't get a road?" Lecker asked, "because we all acted in good faith."

The petitions being passed around the town state:

"The undersigned, Clara Plamann, and the undersigned residents of Outagamie County, respectively represent to the county board that they object to the granting of the easement for construction of a roadway across Plamann Park for the reason that the primary purpose of such proposed roadway is to develop privately owned land, that it will necessitate removal of a portion of the fence which surrounds the park and which we request should remain intact, and that it will violate the purpose for which the deed of conveyance was made, namely:

If there is a breach of this condition, such breach shall work a forfeiture of said lands and the title shall revert to the granters, their heirs and assigns together with all the improvements thereon."

The land for the park was donated to the county by the Plamann family in March, 1956 known as Consolidated Paper Co. It now is Consolidated Packaging Corp.

Consolidated Paper Co. has manufacturing plants and field offices in the east, midwest and south. The firm's paper capacity is substantially in excess of 1,000 tons per day and includes box boards, test and non-test cylinder liners, corrugating medium, chip board, binder board, automation board and specialty building board.

Major Products

The major converting products now include folding cartons, corrugated boxes, advertising display and single face specialties, beer box partitions, fibre board drums and multi wall shipping sacks.

The John Strange Carton Co. was founded in 1915 by the late John Strange, well known paper industrialist, and members of his family as the John Strange Paper Co.

The company manufactured fibre board pails until 1945 and began the manufacture of folding cartons in the 1940's.

The name of the company was changed to the John Strange Carton Co. in 1954 to better describe its operations.

also has a sufficient capacity to serve the population for the 25-year planning period with the present type of treatment, the report stated.

Recommendations for the sewer distribution system include a new well and the construction of water storage facilities. The city presently has an adequate supply of water from its wells to serve current demands but a new well located in the east part of the city near the Waupaca River will be needed by 1980 to provide enough water for adequate fire protection.

The city now has a 311,000 gallon ground storage tank located just north of Fulton Street opposite Center Street. To handle future water demands, it has been recommended that additional storage of approximately 200,000 gallons be provided at the location on the ridge north of the railroad crossing on Ware Street.

Improvements Needed

Major areas presently needing storm sewer improvements are located in the northwest portion of the city, according to the report in order to relieve the flooding problem now occurring on Franklin Street between Fulton and Seasons streets. It has been recommended that an additional 36-inch storm sewer be installed in Franklin Street and that it parallel the existing sewer.

Other proposed storm sewer improvements are an extension of street, south and a 36-inch main to follow Churchill Street from the Mill Pond to Columbia Street.

LBj Balloons May 'Invade' Wisconsin

Million of Them To be Launched At Convention

BY FRANCES McSUCK
Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — If you see strange objects floating around in the atmosphere during the last week in August, don't get alarmed — it won't be another epidemic of flying saucers or an invasion of who-knows-what from Mars.

They'll just be balloons — a million in all and each one decorated with the face of LBJ.

Fantastic as it may seem, a source close to the Democratic National Committee has disclosed plans to launch — or is it total enrollment over 1963 and float — a million LBJ balloons from Atlantic City during the Democratic National Convention which convenes Aug. 24.

And don't think the powers that be haven't had their troubles over the darned balloons. First the airlines decided a million balloons floating around in the air with or without the President's face, constituted an air hazard.

Might Ignite

Then, Atlantic City itself objected. It seemed that the balloons, which must be filled with helium, might become ignited and blow up the whole "kit and kaboodle."

Also, the helium must be purchased from the Department of Defense which of course entails enough paper work to tie each balloon up in its own red tape and turn it into an inflated kite.

And finally, there are labor problems. Where can they find enough currently unemployed people to get the balloons off the ground?

But the Democrats are an ingenious lot. They are making arrangements to rent two or three acres of mud flats off the shore a short distance from Atlantic City to take care of the fire hazard.

In order to satisfy the airlines, the balloons will be sent over a period of several days, maybe a week, so that the atmosphere won't be saturated with them in one day.

The Department of Defense thinks it can cut down on multi-copies of the helium order and get the helium to the spot by August 24. And maybe they can get demonstrators or pickets to help in the launching.

But one big problem remains and even the Democrats can't solve that — or haven't, as yet.

That problem involves where the balloons will land.

An expert has figured that the balloons should travel at the rate of 1,000 miles in 12 hours, and start dropping along the way.

It is estimated then that they include on their itinerary the Pittsburgh-Cleveland, Detroit-Chicago, Milwaukee-St. Paul and points west.

Treasury statisticians are busy working on the books of the fiscal year that has just ended and will report soon. As usual, even inevitably, the actual spending and the actual receipts won't match the estimates made when the budget was presented 18 months ago.

As in almost every year for decades the final result will be a deficit with outgo topping income. That is why the federal debt keeps going up.

This has its counterpart in many family budgets and explains why the total of consum-

Goldwater or Nothing in Wisconsin

That was a startling statement which issued from the office of Republican State Chairman Talbot Peterson this week. He said Wisconsin party leaders on the county and district level will "sit on their hands" during the forthcoming campaign if Sen. Barry Goldwater does not get the party's nomination.

Subsequently Peterson clarified his statement to the extent that he said this was not his personal position but that this was the impression he gathered from letters he was receiving from county and district leaders, from leaders in the Young Republican Club, from finance people and from party workers.

But it was Peterson who distilled this impression from his mail and distributed it to the press. And the story hit like a bombshell across the nation at a most ticklish time for Gov. William Scranton's drive to head off a Goldwater nomination.

Certainly Mr. Peterson must have calculated in advance what effect his statement would have. Scranton forces in the state and at national headquarters are screaming with anger. We can only conclude that the statement was intended to help Goldwater's candidacy and injure Scranton's.

Peterson said state party leaders were incensed over attempts by the liberal wing of the party to stop Goldwater. He said he felt the situation to be so serious that he had communicated the Wisconsin sentiment to National Chairman William Miller.

"They resent the last-minute intrusion of Governor Scranton into the race. They also resent the ganging up on Goldwater tactics that some of these people are using. They have had it. They are not going through again what they went through in 1952 and other years."

Mr. Peterson was obviously referring

The Kennedy Family

There has always been one notable aspect of the Kennedy family that cannot be ignored or even downgraded by the strongest critics or political opponents. Their family solidarity may in great part be responsible for the wealth they have gained and the pinnacles they have climbed.

In the campaign for the presidency, John Kennedy received what certainly must have been the fullest possible support and active participation of his brothers and sisters, their husbands and wives as well as his father's purse. And it was made known early that he was the political choice of the family because of the death during World War II of his older brother, Joe, earlier destined for the political life. The subsequent political appointments of brother Bobby and brothers-in-law Stephen and Sargent may have been pure nepotism

Medical Aid for Aged Now Available

Financial assistance to citizens 65 years or older in meeting their medical and health care payments is now available in Wisconsin under the Health Assistance Payments Act, the state's version of the Federal Kerr-Mills program. Wisconsin on July 1 became the 38th state to make such aid available.

Since there has been so much confusion about medical care to the aged, most of it centering around the proposal both Presidents Kennedy and Johnson have made to the Congress, it is important that senior citizens of the state know the circumstances under which such aid is now available. Incidentally, it now appears that Medicare, the Democratic Administration's plan for furnishing aid under Social Security, is dead for this session of Congress.

It is estimated that about 60 per cent of the 432,000 Wisconsin residents 65 or older will be eligible for assistance under the new program.

These are the eligibility requirements:

- Be a resident of Wisconsin 65 years of age or older.

Washington, July 2nd — A new act to regulate enrolling and calling the national forces into service has passed both Houses.
The bounty is made $100 for one year, $200 for two years and $300 for three years. The bounty is made payable in three yearly equal installments.
Full bounty is not allowed to discharged soldiers. In case of death the bounty is made payable to children, wife or mother, but not to a legal representative. Commutation is abolished.

Wisconsin Delegation Holds Key To First Ballot Goldwater Win

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT
Senator Barry Goldwater's chances for a first ballot victory hinge largely as of this writing on Wisconsin's 30-vote delegation.

Key man to watch in this potentially history-making delegation is Representative John Byrnes, Wisconsin's "favorite son" candidate and ranking Republican on the powerful House Ways and Means Committee.

If Byrnes should release the delegation before the end of the first balloting, at least 20 of its 30 votes are set to swing to Goldwater — thus putting him over the top for the presidential nomination.

These 20 Wisconsin votes would give the Arizonan the 655 he needs to win without either Ohio's 58 or Michigan's 48. In both these major delegations, Goldwater has significant support, but so far has been unable to definitely muster it on the first ballot.

Should Byrnes, whom insiders credit with harboring "kingmaker ambitions," hold his full delegation in line for his "favorite son" candidacy on the first ballot, he might force the tense battle into a second ballot.

What would happen then is anyone's guess.

Currently, the crux of the strategy of the Scranton-Rockefeller-Lodge-etc. opposition to Goldwater is concentrated on blocking his winning on the first ballot and forcing a second or more counts—from their point of view, the more the better.

Similarly, averting that is the heart of Goldwater's strategy.

In both camps the significant behind-the-scenes maneuvering, dickering and politicking is centered on these crucial conflicting objectives. Goldwater is fighting furiously to nail down the nomination on the first ballot, his opponents just as intently are striving to prolong the voting in the belief that will undo him.

THE POSSIBLE PRICE—In their effort to sway him, both sides are strenuously wooing Representative Byrnes. Important leaders are conferring with him. So far none has made any headway. Byrnes is listening but remaining non-committal.

The Wisconsinite is credited with having vice presidential ambitions. But there is little likelihood of their being realized, because of the disclosure of his involvement in a stock deal in which former Senate Democratic secretary "Bobby" Baker made a killing.

Due to this obstacle, Byrnes is said to strongly favor the selection of his close friend, Representative Gerald Ford, Mich., a ranking member of the Appropriations Committee and also the special commission investigating the slaying of President Kennedy.

It is significant that both camp have publicly lauded Ford, and expressed willingness to accept him as running mate.

However, it can be stated positively that neither has gone beyond that.

Representatives of Governor Scranton have told Byrnes that if the Wisconsin delegation will vote for him as "favorite son" on the first ballot, they will talk "seriously" with him immediately thereafter—about the vice presidency and anything else he may want to discuss.

Goldwater lieutenants reportedly have been advising that a concrete understanding be reached with Byrnes before the convention convenes. Nothing has been done on that as yet.

Representative Silvio Conte, Mass., and former Representative Walter Judd, Minn., inner circle Scranton-Rockefeller-Lodge advisers, have urged Byrnes to aid the strategy to force the convention into two or more ballots. They have stressed the argument that "only in this way can a free and deliberate judgment be reached."

"If Goldwater really has the strength he claims," Byrnes was told, "then he can win on the second just as well as the first ballot. If he has to win with a blitz on the first round, then he obviously hasn't staying power and shouldn't get the nomination."

Goldwater insiders claim to have commitments from 681 delegates—26 more than the minimum needed for the nomination. However, they concede there is a big catch to the 681 total.

Without Wisconsin's 30 votes Goldwater is certain of only between 655 and 640 on the first ballot. That's why the Wisconsin delegation is so vital, and why it is now playing such a tensely fateful role in the furiously hectic behind-the-scenes maneuvering.

For Goldwater there is very real danger that if the voting goes into a second ballot, he may lose votes in other delegations, such as Illinois with 58.

That's why the Arizonan is publicly and privately stressing the urgent necessity of his lining up another 50 delegates "to be sure we have the 655 that we must have to win on the first ballot."

Politicians — Lieutenants of Governor Rockefeller are dropping hints that Representative William Miller, N.Y., chairman of the National Committee, would be "highly acceptable" as the vice presidential nominee. An important factor cited in Miller's favor is that he is Catholic. . . . A platform adopted by the New Mexico Republican convention contains a provision opposing federal or state control of the private ownership of firearms. The New Mexico GOP will run on this platform, and will urge adoption of its provisions at the national convention in San Francisco. The firearms provision is as follows: "No registration of firearms. Absolute opposition to registration of firearms by federal or state governments."

Another Teen-Age Samaritan

Editor, Post-Crescent:
This letter is to praise a teenage young man who helped me Monday, June 29.
We hear so much about the bad the teenagers do and so very little about the good.
I had car trouble on the southwest side as I was taking my little granddaughter to the doctor for an emergency when my car stopped. Nearby was this young man fixing his own car. We asked him to help and he came over to do what he could, he then took me home to get my husband. When I tried to pay him, he said no, he was glad to help us.
I didn't get his name but I hope he sees this letter and also his parents as they can be very proud of him.
Thank you again young man.

New Enthusiasm for Johnson Among State Demos Looks Synthetic

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON — What has emerged in Wisconsin Democratic politics with crystal clarity is the desire of office-holders and office-seekers of all ranks to tie their campaigns to the lanky coat-tails of President Lyndon B. Johnson in the fall elections.

Gov. Reynolds is talking with more enthusiasm about the Johnson campaign — thus far unannounced as far as the record goes—with more eagerness than about his own drive for a second term. In the legislative districts, among the Democratic congressmen and congressional aspirants, and in the rank and file of the practicing politicians of the party everywhere there is an apparently powerful conviction that the president cannot be beaten in November and that his presence on the ballot is an antidote for all of their own doubts and anxieties.

They may very well be right. This is the era of the poll-taker, who has assumed a power in political affairs resembling that of the soothsayer of ancient times. The professional polls with extraordinary unanimity toll the prospective defeat of the Republican nominee, whoever he turns out to be.

THE CHANGE
To the student of Wisconsin politics, there is involved here a marvelous change of pace for the professional Democratic politician.

It seems that it was only yesterday that criticism, sometimes approaching contempt, for Sen. Lyndon Johnson, the Texas conservative, was the test of the credentials of the practicing Wisconsin liberal Democrat.

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, who has now announced with considerable pride that he is the chosen "Johnson coordinator" of the state, only a few years ago announced his own gubernatorial candidacy with a scathing, if not exactly relevant, indictment of the majority leader of the U.S. Senate who was the same Mr. Johnson. It was only four years ago this summer that Sen. Prastmire, who had his own reservations about Johnson when he went to Washington, had to beg, in liberal terms, for Wisconsin delegation support at Los Angeles when the late Mr. Kennedy chose Johnson as his running mate. Even under such circumstances, some of the Wisconsin delegates bolted from the convention hall to avoid being recorded on his vice presidential nomination.

Tidebands of the federal power commission, civil rights, the reservations about Mr. Johnson were many and deep throughout the Wisconsin Democracy.

AND NOW
The circumstances might lead the skeptical to wonder whether there isn't a synthetic quality to the Johnson enthusiasm among Wisconsin liberal Democrats today, a devotion born of necessity rather than conviction. There are hints, for example, in the feelings of some liberals who are not directly bound to the Johnson cause.

A Madison commentator who is well accredited among professional liberals, and who was in the vanguard of the anti-Johnson critics during the President's long years in the Congress, has been lamenting for weeks the probability that the nomination of Sen. Goldwater by the Republicans will push Mr. Johnson to the right. It hardly shows faith in the President's devotion to the liberal ideology. A few months ago the editor of The Progressive, a widely read monthly journal of opinion edited by Morris Rubin, whose rank as a liberal spokesman is also certificated, conspicuously published a Texan's view of the President which could only raise doubts in the liberal heart.

Four years ago, when there was an open contest for the presidential nomination, there were in Wisconsin Kennedy Democrats, Humphrey Democrats, Stevenson Democrats, even a few Symington Democrats. But Johnson Democrats were scarce indeed, although he was then a serious contender for the office he now holds by inheritance.

Strictly Personal

Women More Realistic On Selves Than Men

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS
Purely Personal Prejudices:
Women are more realistic, and less vain, about themselves than men are — a woman who finds a man unresponsive assumes that he is simply not attracted to her; but a man who meets a woman's resistance egotistically attributes it to (a) prudery, (b) coquetry, (c) any other reason, except the fact that she doesn't find him appealing.

One of the most honest biographical sketches I have ever read concluded with the statement: "My main interests are talking and thinking—in the order named."

A politician is someone who has diligently trained himself to distrust all his first impulses, because they are usually generous and uncalculating.

Love is a romantic island of emotion, surrounded on all sides by expenditures.

Most people are so easily swayed except where their immediate self-interest is at stake that whoever speaks last in a symposium sounds most plausible to them.

Nothing in art is more embarrassing than profound sincerity coupled with absence of talent.

A confiding husband is one who promptly tells his wife anything he feels she is bound to find out anyway.

Would anyone else call giving up smoking and taking up gum a case of "eschewing tobacco"?

The prescience of historians is nowhere more revealed than in a letter written by Henry Adams to a friend exactly one hundred years ago, when the industrial and scientific revolution was still in its infancy: "Some day science may have the existence of mankind in its power, and the human race commit suicide by blowing up the world."

Speaking of science, the worst intellectual sin of Marxism is pretending to be a "science," instead of frankly admitting it is a religion; for its scientific pretensions enslave millions who think they are thus escaping from religious confines, when they are only embracing a new idolatry.

In the arithmetic of the stomach, half a loaf may be better than none; but in the calculus of the heart, half a love is incomparably worse than none.

Most men are welded together by a common error, not by a common truth; it is truth that liberates the person, but error that consolidates the mass.

Poll Reported To Show Civil Rights Support

Questionnaire Gives Public Feeling on Several Subjects

WASHINGTON (AP)—Replies to a poll in his congressional district show strong support for all major provisions of the civil rights bill, Rep. Robert Kastenmeier, D-Wis., reported Wednesday.

The results ranged, he said, from 97 per cent for voting right guarantees to 71 per cent in favor of denial of federal money to state agencies which engage in discriminatory practices.

Other Results

Other results of the poll, conducted by Kastenmeier with circulation of a questionnaire:

Support for the nuclear test ban treaty, 77 per cent.

Opposition to a constitutional amendment to allow prayers in public schools, 64 per cent.

Support for federal aid to states for school construction as well as teacher salaries, 50 per cent.

Medical Assistance

In favor of medical assistance for the aged financed under the social security system, 55 per cent.

Kastenmeier said 50 per cent of those responding wanted to end government farm programs, but no specific farm proposal won majority support.

He also said that only 23 per cent favored admitting more immigrants, although 52 per cent supported legislation to abolish the "national origins" quota system in the immigration laws.
